A Library Bulletin was distributed among the patrons of the Library in 1935. The Bulletin consisted of a list of books which were added in 1934 and 1935, Fiction and Non-Fiction. These Bulletins were very helpful to those who were not able to get books for themselves, but had to rely on someone else to bring them, as well as for those who picked out their own books at the Library. Out of the proceeds given for the Bulletin, book shelves have been built, making a children's corner. These shelves were needed, as shelf space was lacking. Many books were in rows on the tables and the desk, giving a disorderly look to the room, besides making it hard for the patrons to see the titles. The shelves are a great improvement to the Library, for which I am very grateful.

Librarian.

SPECIAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

To the Voters of the Town of Carver:

Your Board of Selectmen wish to present to you a brief resumé of the heating facilities now installed in your Town Hall.

At our last Annual Town Meeting a plan as submitted to a special committee was read to you, for a vote, as to wkhether you would install a new modern heating system or repair the old one.

By your vote, as recorded, you did not approve of any special system or model of heating, so we, as your representatives, made a most thorough investigation of various systems.

We even employed a Heating Engineer, an expert, who was most highly recommended, Mr. James P. Dwyer Jr., of Boston and Braintree.

He advised the following, which is an accurate copy of his letter to us:

"Honorable Board of Selectmen,
Town of Carver, Mass.

Dear Sirs:

To properly draw a comparison between the installation of General Electric Oil Burning Boiler with 750 square feet of direct cast iron radiation, using a one-pipe system of steam piping, with one present furnace used to supply the fresh heated air to the Assembly Hall as required under the Mass. Law and the Heating and Ventilating System proposed by my plans and specifications and installed in the Town Hall, the following data is known:

1. Cost of G. E. BOILER and one-pipe Heating System	$2175.00
Building Changes	1400.00
Repairing one furnace	200.00
Total		$3775.00

2. Cost of Heating and Ventilating

System as installed	$3200.00
Engineers Commission	125.00
Total		$3325.00

3. The type of heating system installed is commonly called a modulation system of steam heating, using thermostatic traps on the return end of all radiators, units and drip points in the piping system, with modulation type of supply valve on the supply end of all radiators. This type of apparatus is a very modern and up to date type of installation which permits a very marked degree of temperature regulation by the supply valve on each radiator, which is impossible with a one pipe heating system.

   The method of Ventilation is generally referred to as a Unit System, using ventilating units which are self-contained, heating the fresh air and discharging same into the Assembly Hall.

   In the G. E. scheme, one of the present furnaces was to be used to supply fresh air to the Hall. This would require the retention of the fresh air duct from the furnace to the Hall. The State Supervisor of plans does not approve of this type of System, especially when the Hall is located on the Second Floor. The fire hazard is too great.

4. The cost of operating the G. E. system, according to the Contractor will be $240.00 but to this must be added $250.00 for the furnace used with this scheme, or a total of $490.00.

   The cost of the heating, with the present installation, using soft coal should be not more than $245.00 but if hard coal is used, the cost of operation would be $420.00.

In conclusion, I wish to state that the entire Heating and Ventilation system as installed is ultra-modern in every respect. It is flexable and will prove inexpensive to operate. It can at any time be converted to an oil-burning job which I would advise doing as soon as possible.

To retain one on the present furnace would have continued the fire hazard in the Hall and possible loss of life due to this scheme.

Respectfully yours,

Jas. P. Dwyer, Jr."

On June 4, 1935, the contract for installation of a heating and ventilating system in our Town Hall, was awarded to Mr. Perez Shurtleff, a native of Carver, who was the second lowest bidder.

Mr. Shurtleff's bid was $3,098., or Sixty-One dollars higher than the lowest bidder. There were 14 bidders with bids ranging from $3740 to $3037.

The heating was installed by Mr. Shurtleff under the direct supervision of Mr. Dwyer, the engineer.

The fire room has also been made fire proof, and passed inspection.

HERBERT A. STANLY
EARL B. WARE
ALLEN A. MacDONALD

Selectmen.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STREETS

I am submitting to you a report of the work done during the year of 1935.

Under Chapter 81 of the General Laws the Town appropriated $6,700 and received $10,050 from the State. There was considerable oiling and honing done in 1935. $1,000 was spent replacing wood guard rails with wire cable guards. Holmes Street, from West Street to Fosdick Street, and 1,000 ft. of Fosdick Street was widened graveled and tarred. Meadow Street was widened and graveled with W.P.A. furnishing the Common Labor. 2,000 ft. of this street was surfaced with tar. The remainder of Chapter 81 money was spent gravelling muddy places on others streets.

Under Chapter 90 of the General Laws the Town appropriated $1,700, received $1,700 from the County and $3,400 from the State. Of this money $6,708.72 was spent to complete Cranberry Road.

REPORT OF COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE

Plymouth County Extension Service, Town of Carver,
By Mrs. A. C. Holmes, Town Director

In presenting the report of Extension Service activities for the town of Carver, I would like to first call your attention to the fact that the Plymouth County Extension Service has been functioning for the betterment of Agriculture, Home Life, and the boys and girls of the County for twenty-one years. It is your organization and serves you only insofar as you ask for service.

Report of Agriculture

The County Extension Service endeavors to present useful and practical information to farmers of the County and encourage the application of the same. We aid in securing and presenting information on production, marketing, and assist in cooperative enterprises. During 1935, farmers of the County have been kept informed of their position under the various Agricultural Control Program. The poultry and egg market program set-up in 1934 gave poultrymen an opportunity to sell $430,000 worth of produce during 1935. Farm credit programs were especially important during the past year. 3187 farmers in the County were supplied with timely information regarding agricultural problems, while 559 farm visits were made.

Home Demonstration Work

In Home Demonstration Work, the Extension Service assists home-makers with problems relating to the practical management of the home, bringing up of children, and providing a good home environment.

In home-making, the Extension Service brought help to women during 1935 in food buying and preservation, clothing construction and renovation, child training, improvement of home grounds, planning recreational programs, and the keeping of home accounts. Well over 3,000 women participated in this program.

Club Work

In 4-H Club work, the Extension Service provides for the boys and girls of the County an opportunity for educational development through study and practice in home economics and agriculture, as well as an opportunity for self-improvement. It emphasizes the home, and brings club members and parents together in a common interest. It develops cooperation, leadership, self-confidence, ambition, sportsmanship, ability to think, responsibility, and community spirit.

There were 100 4-H Clubs organized in 1935, with an enrollment of 1600 boys and girls. These clubs were under the supervision of 100 volunteer local leaders. Twenty-six of the twenty-seven towns and cities had club work this year.

Home Demonstration Work

Many homemakers attended the garden maintenance meetings which were held in the county. Carver also participated in the home accounts program.

Agriculture

The Cranberry Agent made 46 farm visits upon request of cranberry growers to assist in problems relative to cranberry growing. County Agent made several calls upon request of farmers relative to agricultural problems. One poultry meeting was held in the town.

Carver men attended many meetings of County-wide nature. On the mailing list to receive timely information on various agricultural projects are: 7 dairymen, 7 poultrymen, 9 interested in fruits and market garden, and 82 cranberry growers.

4-H Club Work

There were 50 boys and girls enrolled as 4-H Club members in the handicraft, garden, and clothing clubs during the past year.

The garden club members were under the supervision of Mrs. Wm. Holmes who visited and scored the gardens. An exhibit of garden products was held in conjunction with the annual Old Home Day in August. Oliver and Oiva Harju of South Carver were visited by a committee from the Sippican Pamona Grange, who were selecting the best 4-H gardens in the district.

Miss Eleanor J. Birch led the boys' handicraft club and gave them training in use of the common tools.

Mrs. Anne McFarlin continued her excellent leadership of the girls in their 4-H Clothing Club. The clubs combined and gave a fine program for parents at their final exhibit in the spring.

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The membership of the committee did not change during the past year. Mr. Arthur B. Webber of Middleborough, who has served as Superintendent of Schools for the past twelve years, was re-elected by the joint committee for the Towns of Carver, Lakeville and Rochester to serve another three year term. There have been several changes in the staff of teachers during the past year. These changes are given in detail in the report of the Superintendent.

Last year the committee itemized teachers' salaries. This year we are doing likewise with another one of the large items of the budget, namely, transportation. The payments for transportation in 1935 were as follows:

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the School Committee:

I herewith submit my thirteenth annual report as Superintendent of Schools.

Teachers

Our teaching force has changed more this year than at any time in my experience. In June Mrs. Hudson resigned after 29 years of faithful and efficient service. Mrs. Blanche Holmes has been assigned to the prncipalship at the Benjamin Ellis School, and Miss Florence Kaski was elected to fill the vacancy in that school, Miss Marjorie Griffith having been assigned to the first grade at the North School.

Miss Birch resigned from the Special School in August, and Miss Webb, who was selected for that position, left after one week, and Miss Evelyn Cooper of Marblehead, a graduate of Salem Teachers' College, was elected to finish the year.

All of our teachers attended the course in Mental Hygiene given by Dr. Elkind and Miss Henderson, of the Mass. Society for Mental Hygiene, at Middleboro. The teachers deserve great credit for their faithful attendance and fine response. Several also attended the Graduate Day at Bridgewater, receiving much help and inspiration. The principals have worked with the group of principals of this section studying activity programs.

Union teachers' meetings have been held as usual in each town with increased morale and added efficiency in the work. We should be proud of the teaching force and their desire and willingness to keep to the forefront in all worthwhile developements.

Ultimate Aims

The question has been asked, "Why the course in Mental Hygiene?" Studies have clearly emphasized that serious emotional distress is very common in childhood and adolescence, and that such difficulties may have exceedingly unforunate consequences, even affecting both intellectual and physical growth. It has also been shown that the origins of these distresses were essentially simple and understandable, and therefore could be dealt with. Therefore we must in our schools work systematically, with the help of other social agencies, to prevent maladjustments and to make childhood and youth the zestful and happy periods of life they should be. Increased physical health and intellectual efficiency as well as the avoidance of adult unhappiness should be the result.

Testing Programs

The testing program is being continued by the use of diagnostic tests to emphasize the individual and class weaknesses in reading and mathematics. These tests show the teachers which children need individual attention, which are so advanced that they require special assignments to keep them from utter boredom, and in which subjects special testing is needed.

Practise tests show the pupil as well as the teacher what he has mastered, and what particular topics need special drill. By keeping a graph of class or individual progress, the interest is better held and ambition stimulated.

At the end of the year Achievement Tests are given to aid in the classification of pupils. These tests are filed and furnish a basis for holding pupils to more satisfactory work through comparison with their previous records.

Arithmetic

In my last report I dwelt upon the English course. This year I would emphasize mathematics.

Success in Arithmetic as in other fields depends upon the readiness of the individual for the work which is to be undertaken. This has brought about certain changes in the course of study, especially in the lower grades. The present tendency is to make the number work a natural result of the child's experience. Whatever is done in number work in the lower grades especially becomes a part of a general activity. The purpose of such number work is to create a readiness on the part of the child to carry on the more definite arithmetical activities which will naturally occur in the life activities of the children.

Arithmetic as a Tool Subject

Formerly arithmetic was quite generally an intelligence test. The belief prevailed quite generally that any one who was efficient in solving intricate problems would be equally efficient in almost any type of school work. It is now generally accepted that the aim in arithmetic teaching should be social. In our endeavor to fit the pupil to meet the needs of society, the work in the elementary grades is limited to the processes which are clearly of use in life, and we seek to secure 100% mastery of these fundamental processes.

Meeting Individual Differences

Children in our public schools range in mental ability from the feeble-minded to the genius. Provision must be made therefore, to meet this variation. The mastery of the tool facts must proceed only as rapidly as the child is able to show 100% accuracy. The slower children need much more time in order to perfect themselves in the number combinations, while the brighter children will require much less time to attain mastery. To meet these conditions the classes are divided into small groups for drill, and these groups constantly shift as the needs of each child are brought out through the tests which reinforce all good teaching.

Health

In almost every class room we find children who become fagged out before the school day closes, and present a disciplinary problem because they are too tired to settle down to study.

One of the first facts that parents should realize is that the child's school day actually begins the night before. No boy or girl can be in the best condition to profit by their opportunity for education if they do not come to school refreshed by a sufficient night's sleep. They should go to bed at an hour which will permit them to be rested and ready to get up in time to dress and eat breakfast without rushing. Certainly late hours or social events that upset the bedtime schedule are not the proper preparation for the school day.

Breakfast is in many respects the most important meal for the growing child. It must be ample, simple, and eaten leisurely. If a child has no appetite for this meal, there is probably something wrong with the health program; more sleep and less excitement are needed. Fruit, cereal, milk to drink,—no tea or coffee,—toast and occasionally an egg or bacon make the best breakfast.

If parents would only remember that every day is a growing day for a boy or girl, and that what is important for health today is important tomorrow, they would establish a daily schedule and keep it rigidly. Routine means a great deal in a child's lfe. A definite and early bed time, a regular hour for arising, and meals at regular hours are indispensable in any child's health program.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR B. WEBBER.

Mr. Arthur B. Webber,
Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:

I herewith present my annual report for the year ending December 31, 1935.

School visits	127
Home visits	82

All pupils are weighed and measured three times a year. Many pupils have been visited in their homes to ascertain the cause of their absence from school. These visits have been met with cooperation from parents and guardians, and a wide opportunity is given to advise and instruct in the use of foods and home hygiene.

Diphtheria Preventive Clinic. April 29-May 8-27
Attending physician, Dr. L. M. Chase.

Number of children immunized against diphtheria 76

All parents are urged to have their children from the age of six months to six years immunized against this dread disease.

In April the new Chadwick Clinic was started in the sixth grade.

Skin tests	21
X-rayed	10
Examined	4

April 16, Dr. Steinecke of the Taunton State Hospital Clinic, conducted a clinic examining 5 children. In preparing for this clinic, each child was visited in the home for a family history and his or her school progress was furnished by the teacher.

I assisted the school physician in the examination of all pupils.

School Nurse.

Notice of defects sent home:

Tonsils and adenoids	100
Teeth	125
Poor vision	15

This year there was a marked decrease in the number of skin diseases in the schools. Before the close of school in June the following clinics are to be held: Dental Clinic; New Chadwick Clinic for all grades, sent by the State Tuberculosis Society from South Hanson Hospital, and I hope, a Pre-School clinic.

Respectfully submitted,
